MISSOULA--

The University of Montana Cubs concluded the 1976-77 basketball campaign with a weekend split at home. The jayvees downed Montana Tech 83-65 Friday night and lost to the UM Campus All-Stars, 86-85 Saturday night.

The squad finished with a 9-7 record. Cub Coach Joe Donahue said he was pleased with the progress made throughout the season.

"Although we finished with a 9-7 mark, our record against freshmen teams was 6-2. I thought we played much better with each game," Donahue said. "I'd say that guard Tim McCauley is the best varsity prospect we have on the jayvee team. Tim did a good job all season and really coached the team from the floor. Allan Green, Mike Tomlinson, Rick Nelson, Gary Alexander and Kent Clausen all played very well for us through the season."

McCauley was the scoring leader with a 14.6-point per game average. Tomlinson, Green and Nelson were rebounding leaders for the squad, each with over six boards a game.
